Distribution Tables 2004 Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS)

These distribution tables supplement risk tables which have been placed on the North Dakota Department of Health web site for the BRFSS. The data is derived from a random telephone sample which has been statistically weighted to the age and sex distribution of the population. The percentages provided are expected to be reasonably representative of the non-institutionalized population of North Dakota adults 18 years and older.

Risk tables and distribution tables answer different questions as follows:

Risk tables: Among all respondents within a population stratum (e.g, ages 18 to 24), what percentage have the risk factor. Risk tables are more likely to answer the questions most users are looking to answer.

Distribution tables: Among all survey respondents with the risk factor (e.g., diabetes), what percent of them fall into specific population strata (e.g., various age groups)? For example, what percentage of all respondents with diabetes are in the 18-24 year age group?
